

First Unitarian Universalist Society of Syracuse (First UU)

Unitarian Universalist congregations affirm and promote seven Principles. We also share a “living tradition” of wisdom and spirituality, drawn from many sources.

The seven Principles grew out of the grassroots of our communities, were affirmed democratically, and are part of who we are.

Unitarian Universalists hold the seven Principles as strong values and moral teachings.

Unitarian Universalist Principles

The inherent worth and dignity of every person.

Justice, equity, and compassion in human relations.

Acceptance of one another and encouragement of spiritual growth in our congregations.

A free and responsible search for truth and meaning.

The right of conscience and use of the democratic process within our congregations and society at large.

The goal of world community with peace, liberty and justice for all.

Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.
